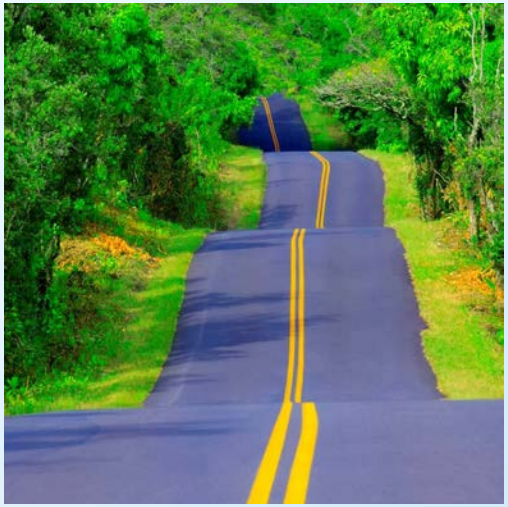
How did we get here?



The "Why" and "How" of the New IPC

In a nutshell:

Why? ⇨ Federal regulations

State commitment to person-centered planning principles and revising the IPC

How? ⇨ 1.5 year stakeholder process

Person-Centered Planning Regulations

Federal Regulations for Person-Centered Planning, U.S. Code of Federal Regulations, 42 CFR 441.301(c)(1)(2)(3)

- Define person-centered planning requirements for persons in Home and Community-Based (HCB) Settings—emphasizing the goals, wants, needs, and strengths of the individual
- Establish strong consumer protections in the person-centered planning process
- CBAS centers to implement person-centered planning NOW

Federal Guidance for Implementing Standards for Person-Centered Planning

Person-Centered Planning Regulations

Federal Person-Centered Planning regulations address:

- Person-Centered Planning Process
  - ✓ Led/directed by participant to extent possible
  - ✓ Includes individuals chosen by participant
  - ✓ Offers informed choices regarding services and supports
- Person-Centered Plan
  - ✓ Reflects individual's strengths, preferences, goals, desired outcomes, choices
  - ✓ Reflects risk factors/measures in place to minimize them
  - ✓ Finalized and agreed to with informed consent of participant
- Review of the Plan
  - ✓ Reviewed and revised upon reassessment (at least every 12 months), when participant's circumstances/needs change significantly, or at participant's request

Person-Centered Planning Regulations

CBAS Special Terms and Conditions/STC 49(c) requires the IPC to:

- Identify each enrollee's preferences, choices and abilities and strategies to address those preferences, choices and abilities,
- Allow the enrollee to participate fully in any treatment or service planning discussion or meeting, including the opportunity to involve family, friends and professionals of the enrollees choosing,
- Ensure that the enrollee has informed choices about treatment and service decisions,
- Is collaborative, recurring and involves an ongoing commitment to enrollee

New CBAS IPC

Centers may need to adjust, plan, train, develop programs, establish Multidisciplinary Team (MDT) processes to develop the IPC to meet person-centered planning requirements.

CBAS IPC - Walkthrough

New CBAS IPC

Designed to:

- Support person-centered planning
- Bring the IPC up- to-date with current program requirements
- Facilitate information exchange between CBAS providers and managed care plans for treatment authorization and service coordination
- Increase capacity for documenting, tracking and measuring beneficiary clinical data, quality indicators, and outcomes
- Improve the form's design, functionality, and ease of use

New CBAS IPC

The IPC has two-parts:

- ✓ Part I - Participant profile (Boxes 1-11)
- ✓ Part II - Care plan (Boxes 12-17)

New CBAS IPC

- The following slides will review each box of Parts I and II, and address:

  ✓ How to gather information needed to complete Box 12 – i.e., to get participants and/or representatives to express what they want from the center, their needs, goals, and desired outcomes.

  ✓ How does the information in Box 12 inform the completion of Boxes 13 & 14.

Participant Example for Care Planning

A Participant, diagnosed with hypertension, status post cerebral vascular accident with right hemiparesis, and depression was asked,

- "What concerns you most about your health?"

She replied,

- "I am not able to get to the bathroom in time or get my pants back up since my stroke, my husband has to help me."
- "I am supposed to be practicing with my walker, but I just don't feel up to it. I usually just sit in my recliner and watch T.V."
- "I used to enjoy cooking and working on projects around the house. Now, it's just easier for us to have carry out meals."

Participant Example for Care Planning

Through reflecting and summarizing conversations, the MDT was able to confirm that the participant would like to work on gaining independence with ambulating, toileting, and adapting to new ways to prepare meals for her family.

- ✓ Nursing services added that monitoring and controlling her blood pressure would lessen her risk of another stroke and keeping track of her moods would help the nurses know if her antidepressant was working for her. They let her know that they would provide communication with her PHCP in the case any of her medications were not doing what they were supposed to do. She agreed that monitoring the effectiveness of her medications would help her reach her goals and avoid a setback.

Participant Example for Care Planning

- ✓ Social Services, through open ended questioning, recognized that the participant was feeling a sense of loss from her lack of independence and not being able to do the things that gave her a sense of purpose.

  The social worker informed her that center participants are actively involved in choosing a monthly theme each month and they have a women's group that does the planning for the themed celebration that occurs one time a month. This group is facilitated by a social worker and promotes regaining a sense of community through active discussions and working toward group goals. She agreed that being actively involved in a project would help her feel as if she was doing something positive and help give her a sense of purpose.

Participant Example for Care Planning

- ✓ Therapeutic Activities affirmed with the participant that she would be a valuable addition to the cooking group that was in charge of picking out an appropriate menu item, consistent with the centers chosen theme, to make for the celebration that they have one time a month. The participant expressed that she would bring in some of her favorite cookbooks to share.
